GRAIG SHIP MANAGEMENT LIMITED

As a result of our successful expansion in ship management and marine consultancy services applications are invited for the following position

TECHNICAL ASSISTANT

The key responsibility for this important role will be the efficient management and ongoing maintenance of the company's planned maintenance (PPM) system to ensure high quality of service expected by our clients. The successful candidate will also be responsible for building 'component trees' for new vessels as they come into management.

Applications are invited from candidates with a proven track record in database management and good computer literacy, together with strong engineering knowledge. Experience of the marine engineering industry would be a distinct advantage. In addition, applicants should be goal focused, well organised and capable of meeting deadlines working under their own initiative.
